Proximity - bug/issue reports & feature requests

As detailed in our license:

Support:

uiCookies offers these templates and designs 'as is', with no implied meaning that they will function exactly as you wish or with all 3rd party components and modules. Further, we offer no support via email or otherwise for installation, customization, administration, etc. You acknowledge by your use of the templates that it is at your sole risk, and that you assume full responsibility for all costs associated with all necessary servicing or repairs of any equipment you use in connection with the templates.

However we are committed to work on releasing bug fixes to make our templates as good and useful as you deserve. So if you find a bug or a specific issue that you feel should be fixed in an updated version please send us an email here:
